1. You will be having a page with a form to take response from user.
2. Taking all the details from the user and store it into a database.
3. As clear from above mentioned points, you need to attach a database.
(You may use any development language and database of your choice).
4. You don't need to focus on the look of the website.

Bonus Task - As mentioned above, you don't need to focus on how your website looks, but giving the website an appealing look doubles your chances of being called for the Personal Interview.
